CREATE

Zac Goodman is an experienced business banker who founded Mortar Finance to offer Commercial property investors and businesses a dedicated finance relationship. Zac founded Australia's first digital end to end property app "Brixn" and through this process identified the of lack of opportunity for start ups to be introduced to financing, often not having access to direct relationships within banks. This has lead many start ups to turn to selling equity for their growth, we are here to identify other options available to you.
